Welcome!

Wow! A mission trip! In a world of self-centeredness, you have embraced an opportunity to take your eyes off of yourself so you can love, serve, and help meet the needs of others. The focus of a mission trip is not you; it is others. And yet, you will likely discover a paradox. As you are working to serve others, God will be working on you. It is important to pay attention to what God is showing you. He wants to reveal His heart to you, and He wants to use this experience to make you more like Jesus.

Journaling is a great way to help you fully engage in your mission trip experience. (By the way, your mission trip doesn't begin on the day you travel. It begins the moment you agree to go. There is a lot you will learn before the actual trip, so start journaling right away.) The Experience Mission Trip Journal provides you with space to write about your day, explore your questions and feelings, write prayers, express yourself creatively, and through it all, process what God is saying to you. Journals also provide a great way to look back on your experience, relive some of the memories, remember what God did, and inspire you to continue forward on your spiritual journey. Enjoy!

Pre-Trip

A Letter To God

Date:

Use this space to write a letter to God about your upcoming trip. Talk to Him about your excitement, your anxieties, and your hopes.

Dear God,
