

Series Goal: By looking at the life of Moses, students will be able to relate to God’s miraculous plans being accomplished through ordinary, broken people. We want to encourage them in their own messiness—and embolden them to step into God’s call on their life to bring the gospel to the world through the Holy Spirit.

Bottom Line: You are a miracle!

Hey! Welcome! My name is _____, and the team and I here at _____ are so excited that you are here today. We believe it is not an accident that you are sitting here, and that God has something very specific He wants to say to you today through His Word and through the Holy Spirit.

Today, we are starting a brand-new series of messages called Messes and Miracles. Turn to the person next to you and say, “Life is messy.” Now turn to another person and say, “But God is about to do some miracles.”

I believe that. I believe that your best days are up ahead; that there is light at the end of the tunnel; that no matter what mess you find yourself in today, or if you just feel like a mess—God is about to do something miraculous in your life if you will simply open your heart to Him.

This week and for the next three weeks after this, we are going to be opening our Bibles and getting to know a man named Moses. Someone say, “Moses!”

Moses was born into a very messy situation. He did some really stupid and terrible things. He ran from his problems. He was insecure. He doubted God. Things didn’t turn out the way he planned. Can you relate to any of this? Moses lived through some messes.

BUT GOD. That’s one of my favorite phrases in the Bible. But God loved Moses. God chose Moses. God had a purpose for his life. God was patient with Moses. God redeemed his screwups. And even though Moses was a mess, God did miracles in and through Moses’s life, and Moses was even
